

Dr. Francis Soans
Chief of Glaucoma

High pressure within the eye is a risk factor for glaucoma, and the only risk factor that can be modified – by drops, laser or an operation.

Even in the US, up to one-half of people with glaucoma are unaware that they are affected.

Early diagnosis and treatment are most important in preventing vision loss from glaucoma.

